

VODACOM CENTRAL REGION DEPLOYS NEW SITES IN 21 VILLAGES

Correspondent

JOHANNESBURG – Vodacom Central Region, covering the Free State and Northern Cape provinces, has switched on 21 new 3G and 4G enabled base station sites in deep rural areas across the province during March and April alone. Deployed across 21 villages, these base stations will provide connectivity in some of the big local municipalities in Free State and Northern Cape provinces for the first time.

The new sites are in Ubuntu, Joe Morolong, Siyancuma, Tokologo, Mangaung, Tswaing, Ga-Segonyana, Kagisano-Molopo, Dikgatlong, Matjhabeng, Sol Plaatjie, Dihlabeng, Naledi Local Municipalities.

GSMA research shows that while the availability of high-speed broadband is critical to deep rural development, deep rural communities are lagging behind in terms of broadband connectivity, excluding many from digital transformation and access to the digital economy.

Tsatsi Mthimunya, Managing Executive for Vodacom Central Region commented: "We have embarked on a crucial network investment drive in our province as part of the rural network expansion programme so that we address coverage gaps in deep rural and township areas. The new sites are going to provide faster internet speeds, greater capacity and help to bridge the digital divide between urban and rural areas of Free State and Northern Cape provinces. This is part of our vision to make sure that we connect everyone whether they live in the cities, townships or in the rural areas, which requires investment."

The region has spent R67 million in 2020/21 financial year deploying new sites in deep rural areas in Bethlehem, Fouriesburg, Clocolan, Fauresmith, Griekwastad, Bothaville, Kroonstad, Potsmasburg, Jagersfontein, Parys, Qwa-Qwa, Prieska, Kgalagadi Theunissen. They plan to invest more sites in the next financial period.

Vodacom's commitment to accelerate network coverage for people who live in deep rural areas has yielded significant positive societal impact, and will help to enhance socio-economic development in rural areas. Access to the internet will help rural dwellers access services such as eHealth, eEducation and eCommerce, taking South Africa Further Together.

VUMANI & IKAHENG CENTRES RECEIVES HOME COOKED MEALS

Correspondent

Ramadan is a very significant time of the year among the Moslem Community. It is a month of fasting, worship & above all Thanks giving.

Just like Christian communities celebrate Easter and Lent, Ramadan share a number of similarities – besides the celebrations, self-discipline, charity & reflection are very specific aspects in both communities whilst celebrating.

It is for this reason that the family of Hassan's from Mauersnek, Miss Salma Rani Hassan, have decided to embrace this season of celebration, by giving to two Children Homes of the Ladybrand Community.

Miss Salma Ranni Hassan, together with Chef Zie from Demo kitchens for Skills, have collaborated to celebrate & have prepared cooked meals for Vumani Outreach Centre & Ikaheng Centre for Disabled Children.

Food, fresh fruits as well as clothing, was dropped off on Monday 10 May 2021. It is as per Ramadan rules, that any good cause of thanks giving be celebrated before they end their Ramadan fasting.

Chef Zie from Demo kitchens for Skills Training said: "We are truly thankful for the family of Hassan's for sharing the same vision as us. We truly believe together we can impact & reach out more, especially to our less destitute families & kids in particular".

"We also extend our most gratitude of thanks to Maluti Newspaper for their continued publications of our outreaches to the Ladybrand Community".

Chef Zie further expressed his appreciation to the Managers & Staff members working at these Children Homes, and conveyed wishes of blessings upon their homes.

PRAWN BISQUE RECIPE

A winter warmer recipe, with love The Table Bay

Ingredients:

- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 1/2 large fennel bulb, chopped
- 1 carrot, chopped
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 garlic clove, crushed
- 1 tablespoon of tomato purée
- 150g of tiger prawn shell off, tail on
- 3 tablespoons of brandy
- 1l stock, made with 150g of prawn shells and 1l of just-boiled water
- 2 tablespoon of olive oil
- Salt to taste
- Freshly to taste ground black pepper
- Lemon juice, freshly squeezed (just a few drops to taste)
- 1 teaspoon of miso paste

Method:

1. Heat the olive oil in a large saucepan. Add the chopped onion, fennel, carrot and bay leaves and cook gently over a low heat for 10 minutes, or until the vegetables are soft.
2. Add the crushed garlic, stir and cook for another minute before adding the tomato purée, prawn shells and brandy. Stir for 2 minutes, then add the stock and miso to combine everything. Cover the saucepan with a lid and simmer gently for 20 minutes over a low heat.
3. Remove prawn shells and liquidize the soup until smooth using a hand blender. Pass the soup through a fine sieve into a clean saucepan, taking care to extract as much liquid as possible.
4. Gently reheat the soup before adding a few drops of lemon juice and season with freshly ground black pepper and salt to taste.
5. Season prawns with salt, pepper, and sautéed in a pan till firm in texture.
6. When you are ready to serve, divide the soup between shallow soup bowls. Place sautéed prawn into the centre of each bowl and garnish with dill and a drizzle of double cream.
